Brucker Inspects American And Korea Army Units

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U. S. Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker today inspected U. S. and South Korean army units before cutting short his Far Eastern tour and returning to Washington.

He will leave by plane Saturday after conferring with Gen. Carter B. Magruder, U.N. commander in South Korea.

There was speculation that the secretary was being called back to Washington to explain a statement made in Taipei that the United States will defend Nationalist China's offshore islands from Chinese communist aggression.

Brucker said later that his remarks "did not infer or state any change of U. S. policy."

An Army spokesman in Washington said Brucker was returning three days earlier than scheduled so that he may prepare for his appearances before the Armed Services Committee on the national defnse program.

The spokesman said that committee called hearings earlier than expected.

Mickey Considered Brilliant Scientist

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Dr. George H. Mickey, 49, accused of murder in the savage hacking death of a woman biology teacher, is considered a brilliant scientist and capable university administrator.

Mickey is known also as a religious man. He is on the official board of University Methodist Church. And he is well known in science circles in the United States and abroad.

His scientific specialty is genetics, the study of how living creatures inherit their characteristics. His work has brought him some important assignments.

One such assignment was at Oak Ridge (Tenn.) National Laboratory, where he served as the main biologist.

In Chicago recently, he was re-elected national president of an honorary society of biologists, Beta Beta Beta.

Another person who attended year-end meetings of scientists at Chicago was Dr. Margaret Rosamond McMillan, the slaying victim.

Mickey is chairman of the department of zoology, physiology and entomology at Louisiana State University here and dean of the LSU graduate school. He was promoted to the top graduate administrative post at LSU last spring.

Mickey is a native of Claude, in the Texas Panhandle.

He is married and has two children, a 19-year-old son who is an LSU sophomore in pre-medical studies and a married daughter who lives in Ohio.

The Mickeys live in a comfortable cottage in a nicer section of Baton Rouge near winding University Lake.

He is tall, about six feet, and angular. He has greying brown hair and a way of shuffling around the LSU campus with his hands in his pockets. He is considered likeable, always friendly.

Mickey worked with fruit flies—subjecting rapidly reproducing creatures to radiation and watching the results.

Mickey has written or helped write some 70 articles on such topics. He has lectured at international genetics conferences in Montreal, Stockholm and Paris.

The professional paths of Drs. Mickey and McMillan crossed at Northwestern University, near Chicago, in the early 1950s. He was a member of the faculty. She was studying for a doctorate degree. He directed work she did in writing the thesis required to win her doctorate degree.

Mickey received his bachelor's degree from Baylor University, a Baptist institution, his master's degree from Oklahoma Univeristy and his doctorate from the University of Texas.

He taught at LSU from 1938-48, went to Northwestern, took a research fellowship at California Institute of Technology and then served at Oak Ridge until 1956 when he came back here to LSU.

Believes Convicts To Soon End Fast

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—Warden John Turner says he thinks 15 convicts still on a hunger strike at the Utah State Prison will decide to eat today or Saturday.

Four of 19 prisoners in the segregation cellblock gave up the hunger strike and ate the evening meal Thursday night. The other 15 refused the food.

The convicts started the hunger strike Sunday evening in protest against a new policy of providing only two meals daily to inmates being disciplined for violating prison rules.

Turner said the convicts have created no disturbance.

NIXON SCHEDULES MEETING

MIAMI (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was scheduled to meet with Florida state Republicans here today. He will hold a news conference Saturday.
